

Emery Elected As Successor To Galbraith

Executive Committee of Legion Also Promotes T. J. Bannigan, of Hartford, to Become Vice-Commander

New Chief Not Opposed

Lives in Grand Rapids and Was Active in Promoting the Compensation Plan

INDIANAPOLIS, June 14.—Members of the American Legion executive committee of the American Legion to-day elected National Vice-Commander John G. Emery, of Grand Rapids, Mich., as the national commander of the veterans' organization to succeed Frederick W. Galbraith Jr., who was killed last week in an automobile accident.

Thomas J. Bannigan, of Hartford, Conn., was elected one of the five national vice-commanders to succeed Commander Emery.

Commander Emery in his first statement as head of the organization, issued here to-night, advocated a continuation of the Legion's program of "instilling in the hearts of former service men and women a sense of individual obligation to community, state and nation." With this sense of responsibility before them, he said, the Legion would be able to meet the "nightmare of destructive radicalism and disintegrating factional strife which has assailed so many nations since the war, has been spared our country."

Aid to Veterans to Continue

Mr. Emery said the Legion would continue its fight in behalf of disabled veterans of the World War until each man was generously provided for. The new national commander paid glowing tribute to the late Colonel Galbraith, his predecessor.

Commander Emery announced he would fill the speaking dates arranged by the late Mr. Galbraith as far as possible. Mr. Emery telegraphed his resignation as president of the Board of City Commissioners of Grand Rapids. He will devote his entire time to administration of the office of national commander.

Although numerous candidates had been mentioned for the post of national commander, Mr. Emery's name was chosen.

Resolutions were adopted by the committee recording the Legion's reverence for the memory of Colonel Galbraith and its recognition of his leadership up to the time of his death. A member of the committee which drafted the Legion's fourfold plan of additional compensation and as one of its advocates before Congress, Commander Emery has been exceedingly active. He is an overseas man, having served with distinction in France.

Commander Emery was born in Grand Rapids, July 4, 1884. He is married and has two children. He is engaged in the real estate business in Grand Rapids, has served as president of the Grand Rapids Real Estate Board, as one of the seven commissioners who govern the city, and is president of the 1st Division Club of that city.

Mr. Emery entered the Second Officers' Training Camp at Fort Sheridan, Ill., August 27, 1917, was commissioned a captain of infantry, and was ordered overseas November 27. He attended various schools in France and was assigned to the 15th Infantry of the 1st Division. He commanded the 1st Company of this regiment in the Montdidier-Noyon and Aisne-Marne offensives and received his majority on September 1, 1918, in the St. Mihiel and Argonne offensives.

Mr. Emery is a member of the State Executive Committee of the American Legion and of the Military Order of Foreign Wars. He is a member of the Carl A. Johnson Post, No. 2, of the Department of Michigan.

Vice-Commander Bannigan has served as adjutant of the Connecticut Department of the Legion for three years. During the World War he served as a captain in the army. A record-maker in the formation and organization of Rau-Locke Post of the Legion in Hartford, Mr. Bannigan was elected as the first adjutant of the Legion's Connecticut Department and has occupied that position since that time. He is also a member of the Legion's national committee on war risk insurance and compensation.

Says U. S. Must Study Latin-American Trade

Allen Walker Tells Ad Men of Plan for Better Understanding

ATLANTA, Ga., June 14.—The United States already holds a commanding position in Latin-American trade and will have nothing to fear from its rivals if American business men will make an earnest effort to understand Latin-America, Allen Walker, of New York, declared in addressing the Pan-American division of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World here to-day.

Mr. Walker declared the association was working to make possible President Harding's plan for a "better understanding" between America and the other nations of the world.

The convention held no general sessions, the day being given over to departmental meetings and the evening to the "president's dinner," at which heads of the departments discussed policies of the association.

Frank A. Black, of the William Filene store of Boston, addressing the retail division of the convention, expressed belief that advertisers should get further and further away from screaming headlines and large type and depend upon ability to write and ability to supply the goods the people want, to get attention.

Milwaukee was unanimously chosen for the 1922 convention by the presidents of the various departments at their dinner. The decision is expected to be ratified by the convention on Thursday.

Passage of Bonus Measure Assured, McCumber Asserts

Head of Senate Sub-Committee Declares Bill Will Be Reported Out Monday; Mellon Ends Opposition

From The Tribune's Washington Bureau WASHINGTON, June 14.—The soldiers' bonus bill will be reported out of the Finance Committee of the Senate and will pass Congress, according to Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, head of the sub-committee in charge of the measure.

Although the committee did not act favorably on the bill at its meeting to-day, as Senator Penrose had predicted it would, indications are it will be ordered reported out at the meeting next Monday, according to Senator McCumber. Several Senators desired to examine into the changes made by the sub-committee and to study the sub-committee report.

Although the sub-committee report on the bill indicates that under the cash bonus plan upward of $400,000,000 might be paid the first year after effect, the cash bonus system went into effect, provided all veterans demanded the cash bonus, Senator McCumber thinks half that sum nearer the correct amount which the government would have to appropriate in 1922.

Information in Senate finance committee circles, it was learned to-day, is that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will not oppose the bonus legislation.

Senator Penrose, chairman of the Finance Committee, following the meeting of the committee, again predicted a favorable report on the bonus measure. He said he expected it at the meeting next Monday.

Various minor amendments will be offered by members of the committee. One Senator Penrose has introduced a bill to prevent any of the benefits of this bill or general pensions of soldiers going to civilians who were with the army or navy.

The crowning triumph of the improved Self Starting Remington is the quality of its work. It is not only beautiful in original and carbons but it is consistently good under all circumstances. The checks against every kind of mis-operation are so complete that the machine seems bound to turn out good work no matter how operated. The improved Self Starting Remington is a machine for the expert but not the expert alone. It is certain to have exceptional popularity with the student, beginner and the novice, because it helps them to turn out good, acceptable work from the very outset.

The changes in the type bar of the improved Self Starting Remington and its adjustments are numerous, including a slotted segment anvil and type balanced. The action of the type bar is scientifically

Already many thousands of these latest Remingtons have been sold and everywhere the buyers are enthusiastic. All agree that the improved Self Starting Remington and the Remington Portable set new standards of efficiency in the two most important fields of typewriter service.

Cited as Draft Deserters

The Tribune prints herewith the eighteen installment of names of men classified by the War Department as draft deserters from this vicinity. It does not attempt to publish the entire list of names released for publication in the 2d Army Corps Area, but only those of the greater city or its immediate environs.

The War Department takes the position that only through widespread publicity can the real draft dodger be exposed and those not guilty of willful evasion of service cleared from the record. The Tribune therefore does not vouch for the accuracy of the lists, and will be glad to publish any corrections.

The commanding general of the 2d Corps Area on Governor's Island asks that any registrant who actually served in the military or naval forces of the United States during the war, and who has any doubt as to his draft status, communicate immediately with the adjutant general of the army, Washington, D. C., relative thereto, setting forth the facts of his service, including the date, place and manner of his entry into service and the exact names under which he registered and served, the designation of the local board with which he registered, the place of his residence at the time of registration, and any other available identifying information.

Any registrant who actually served in the forces of one of the Allied powers should report at once to the commanding officer of the nearest military post, bringing authenticated evidence of that service.

200-Pound Man Is Held For Beating Baby Boy

Deploing that he could not sentence his prisoner to run a gantlet of tomahawks and stones, Recorder Cain, sitting in Bayonne, N. J., yesterday, held Dominic Soccus, a 200-pound man, in $5,000 bail for the grand jury on charge of having beaten Benedict Bichuna, two and a half years old, with a three-lash whip.

The baby's mother is dead and he was left by his father with the Soccus family, at 81 East Twenty-fourth Street. Neighbors complained they had heard the child screaming and investigators found him suffering with welts on his chest and back. Soccus admitted, they said, that he beat the child "when he didn't mind."

No punishment can be too severe for such a man," the Recorder told the grand jury. "We ought to go back to the days of the Indians and run you through a gantlet of stones and hatchets."

Tuberculosis Experts Help Ex-Soldiers

National Association to Fix High Standard in Treatment, Pending Relief by Government Institutions

Army Hospitals Approved

Inadequate, However, for Increase in Cases; Peak of Malady Forecast in 1923

Warning that the number of ex-soldiers suffering from tuberculosis will increase during the next two years and that the Federal government should make provision for them now was sounded at the opening session of the convention of the National Tuberculosis Association, held yesterday at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Dr. F. C. Smith, surgeon of the United States Health Service, said that 35,150 former soldiers have been treated for tuberculosis in hospitals since the war risk insurance act was passed. The peak, however, will not be reached until 1923, he said, when the number affected is expected to reach 4,000. There are available in government hospitals only 12,400 beds.

Pending the erection of the needed institutions the American Sanitarium Association and Federal physicians conferred yesterday as to the standard which should be demanded in private hospitals that treat Federal patients. Dr. Lawson Brown, of Saranac, president of the American Sanitarium Association, declared that sanatoriums were springing up all over the country for the treatment of ex-soldiers which were not able to take proper care of the invalids. It was voted that the American Sanitarium Association and the physicians of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance should establish a standard to which these institutions must conform.

Dr. David R. Lyman, of Wallingford, Conn., declared that the service to tuberculous soldiers was crippled by lack of cooperation on the part of the soldiers. Knowing that the government is paying the bills, he said, the men are extravagant and unwilling to submit to discipline.

The same cast that has been appearing in the plays at the Grand Street playhouse is to be seen, including Ian MacLaren, Whitford Kane, Joanna Roos, Albert Carroll, Lily Lubell, John Roche, Frederick Lloyd, Patsy Ripple, Dan Walker and St. Clair Bayfield.

Three Proposals Urged for Baltic States Alliance

Failure to Settle Vilna Question Is Delaying Any Agreement for a Military and an Economic Union

By Wireless to The Tribune Copyright, 1921, New York Tribune Inc. BERLIN, June 14.—Efforts to form a Baltic entente are meeting with unexpected difficulties, according to information obtained by the Tribune correspondent from Latvian sources. While recognizing the necessity for some sort of mutual economic and military protection for these new states, three distinct currents prevail throughout eastern Europe regarding the character of that union or alliance.

The Polish idea presupposes a defensive alliance formed of Lithuania, Latvia, Finland and Poland. In the event of aggressive action by some other country Russia and Rumania would be asked to join this alliance. Because of the failure to settle the Vilna trouble, however, which has aggravated the relations between Poland and Latvia, Poland now intends to negotiate separately with each of these countries. Her attitude is said to be one of forcing Latvia to accept conditions stipulated.

Finland is opposing this plan of Poland for the reason that she is disinclined to join in any anti-Soviet military combination and prefers purely an economic union of the Baltic states. The second current of opinion favors an alliance of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia. The belief is expressed that these states would not derive much good from any alliance with Finland and Poland. This belief was given emphasis by the Lithuanian foreign minister, Puritzky.

The third current presupposes a division of the Baltic union with Estonia and Finland separate from the rest. In this connection Foreign Minister Pip of Estonia has visited Helsinki, the Finnish capital.

In the event of such an agreement between Estonia and Finland the Baltic states would divide into two groups and Poland would be left to go it alone.
